VOTING IS VOICE: WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE AND BEYOND

October 20, 2020, 7:00-8:30 pm A Virtual Panel Discussion Sponsored by:

One hundred years ago, the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution was ratified to affirm women's right to vote in our country. However, not all women were included at that time and the voting franchise still does not extend equally to all citizens today. This event commemorates the centennial of women's suffrage and also discusses the need to carry forward the movement for voting rights.

A panel of accomplished women will share from their own personal and career experiences to reflect on why voting and elections matter so much. Panelists will consider both the success and shortcomings of the suffrage movement of the past; the empowerment of new voters today; and what future work remains to ensure citizens across all communities can and do exercise their voting rights.

PRESENTERS & PANELISTS:

Senator Sonia Chang-Diaz, MA State Senator, 2nd Suffolk District (panelist)

Elizabeth Foster-Nolan, Director of the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts (presenter)

Lori Lander, Artist and Community Activist. Co-founder, Many Helping Hands, Board Member, Cambridge Community Foundation (panelist)

Layli Maparyan, Ph.D, Executive Director, Wellesley Centers for Women (panel moderator)

Susan Sidel, Member and Volunteer, The Philanthropy Connection (presenter)

Melanie Torres, Interim Executive Director, Project Citizenship (presenter)

Susan Ware, Honorary Women's Suffrage Centennial Historian at the Schlesinger Library, Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study (panelist)

PARTICIPANT BIOGRAPHIES

Sonia Chang-Díaz is the first Latina elected to the Massachusetts State Senate. She is serving her sixth term on behalf of the Second Suffolk District of Boston. She was a primary architect of the landmark 2019 Student Opportunity Act that doubled Massachusetts' investment in closing the achievement gap for our lowest-income students. She has also helped to pass reforms to the state's CORI and criminal justice systems, curtail the misuse of special education dollars, and protect civil rights for transgender Bay Staters. Senator Chang-Díaz serves as cochair of the Senate's Racial Justice Working Group and Senate Chair of the Joint Committee on Children, Families & Persons with Disabilities and the Joint Committee on Cannabis Policy. She also serves as a member of the Joint Committees on the Judiciary, Election Laws, Financial Services, and Public Safety & Homeland Security.

Elizabeth Foster-Nolan is the Director of the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts (LWVMA). This past year, she chaired the LWVMA Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Committee, was a member of the Voter Engagement Committee, and chaired the Moderator Training and Mentoring Sub-Committee. A social worker for many years, Elizabeth earned her JD in 1990 from Duquesne University School of Law in Pittsburgh, PA. She was the Director of Professional Development for a 200 member Boston law firm, where she was a member of her firm's Diversity Equity and Inclusion Committee and was also elected to a national committee tasked with creating a competency model for Professional Development Specialists.

Lori Lander is a Cambridge-based artist, community activist and volunteer, who is passionate about civic engagement. She currently serves on the Advisory Board of the Cambridge Arts Council and the Board of Trustees of the Cambridge Community Foundation. She cofounded Many Helping Hands 365, a civic engagement non-profit, that organizes an annual Martin Luther King Day of Service, an annual gun buy-back program, and volunteering resources for the Cambridge community. Since 2010, she has hosted monthly breakfast gatherings of 50-70+ people to discuss varied issues relevant to our times.
